

interiors

MAGAZINE

detail

detail

detail

detail

detail

detail

Sutherland premieres the new home accessories collection by Seattle-based designer Stefan Gulassa. Inspired by the landscape of the Pacific Northwest, the eight-piece collection combines high function, elegant lines and unexpected materials. This page: The Riser Tray celebrates the natural beauty of wood, and no two trays are the same. Brass handles pass through the wood to form simple but elegant feet. Opposite page: The bronze Toko Wall Vase is intended for a single branch or flower and can be hung or leaned against the wall. 800 717 8325 sutherlandfurniture.com

detail

e

t

s

i

detail

140 June / July 2013

"Light was key to our design for the new showroom," says Ann Sutherland, president of David Sutherland. "Natural light comes through the wonderful window wall, which features six French doors that frame the powerful Chicago skyline. The new layout provides separation for our various collections, but it is still as open-plan as possible. We have stone and wood flooring, and simple, clean architectural detailing that sets off our classic contemporary pieces. We love being in Chicago and sharing its love for architecture and good design." ■ Suite 1400 312 205 7700 davidsutherlandshowroom.com