TAKING COMFORT WALL-TO-WALL

For years, interior designers looking to upholster walls in Loro Piana's famously plush cashmeres and other textiles have had to get creative to execute their clients' wishes. Now the Italian house has done some of the heavy lifting by producing a line of fabrics backed with paper for easier installation. Their first offering is Black Swan, a cotton-and-synthetic-fiber blend—for more durability—depicting the tree of life. It comes in gold on a dark-gray background or white on beige (above). To the trade; 212-593-9663. —J.H.
