On the cutting edge

From the practical to the quirky, designers deliver a grab bag of covetables.

- 1 Linen, velvet and chenille move outdoors, replacing synthetic fabrics, in the ultrachic Roda collection of outdoor furniture. Designed by Rodolfo Dordoni, it is imported by Domo Collections. See www.domo.com.au.
- 2 We love simple, clever design and the Bookblock shelf designed by Matthew Conway, as part of the Workshopped 08 exhibition, is exactly that. Visit www.matthewconway.com.au or www.workshopped.com.au.
- 3 Italian design flair comes to the fore in the Dama coffee tables, designed by Carlo Colombo, in canaletto walnut and cedar. Go to www.poliform.it.
- 4 The Oiseau 3 candle centrepiece is only one of the outstanding items available from Nest, the New Zealand-based homewares company. Visit www.nest.co.nz.
- 5 Samantha Parsons of Studio Sam is obsessed with books, which is evident in the design of Siena the Bookblock tables. See www.studiosam.com.au.
- 6 The Dido lighting collection by Caroline Mansouri is now available at Architectural & Antique Elements. Handcrafted, the range includes pendant lights, table and floor lamps. See www.elements.net.au.
- 7 New at Orson & Blake are the beautiful glass plates featuring images of bugs, colourful blooms and animals by New York artist John Derian. Visit www.orsonandblake.com.au.
- 8 The new dEco range from Lightly features the Time to Reflect clock, made from old plates. In aluminium-plated silver or gold finish and a limited-edition Willow blue. Go to www.lightly.com.au.
- 9 The Robinwood Deluxe collection by Philippe Starck is an outdoor furniture range in teak and polished aluminium. See www.sutherlandteak.com.
- 10 These quirky flower candleholders by Pols Potten are in chrome, gold and white. More at www.spacefurniture.com.au.
