

DENVER

spaces

Live it Up with COLOR

A Congress Park bungalow gets a fresh & fab new look

PLUS

- Cool outdoor style
- Bedtime splendor
- Fun shopping, dining & more!

Summer 2009

▲ Sail Worthy

Keep your cool with this nautical-style 54-inch Sanibel ceiling fan from the Hunter Fan Company.

It's rated for damp environments like covered porches and features washable off-white sailcloth. It also promises a quiet motor and wobble-free performance. In both bronze and white finishes; about $200; hunterfan.com or 888/830-1326.

▶ Nights in White Canvas

The Loxley Bed, designed by Philippe Starck for Sutherland Furniture's RobinWood Deluxe Collection, is the picture of medieval romance and elegant outdoor style. The soft landing pad (84"W x 105"H x 87"D) is made of natural teak, with polished aluminum detailing and washable outdoor fabric choices. Available to the design trade; sutherlandfurniture.com or 800/717-8325.

◀ Warm Feelings

For a built-in look of a fireplace without the built-in price, consider one you can have without a lot of masonry fuss. This wood-burning Stone Grey Large Fireplace, in a sandy texture that ages well over time, is made from a patented concrete blend that's lighter and stronger than concrete. It features a spark arrester (to keep hazardous sparks from leaving the hood), as well as a firebox and a grate. The three-piece interlocking unit (42"W x 72"H x 28"D), is touted as easy to assemble; $2,199; smithandhawken.com or 800/940-1170.

