▲ The Graphix double-sided retaining wall by Techo-Bloc is made of a stone-and-concrete composite but looks like a traditional stone wall. A surface of varying depths, smooth and chiseled textures and a unique installation process create its three-dimensional visual effect. techo-bloc.com

▲ Designed in collaboration with BMW Group DesignworksUSA, Hot Springs' Highlife Collection NXT spas boast curved, molded outside corners for a modern look. The tub features two massage jets, a wireless remote and multiple layers of insulation. Available through AQUA Pools & Spas in Easton, Maryland. aqua74.com

◀ Conceived by Stefan Gulassa for Sutherland, the C Table makes a streamlined, organic statement in any outdoor space. Though measuring only 18 inches high and 12 inches deep, it weighs in at 182 pounds. Available in solid Nero Marquina (pictured) or Carrara marble. sutherlandfurniture.com
